The Team Stack — fork this, then go sell

Thirty minutes of setup, once. Every hour saved on plumbing is an hour of selling. Tool names checked July 2026 — tools rot, the pattern doesn't.

1. Landing page with measurement built in (20 min)

1. Build with Lovable / v0 / Framer — one promise, one CTA, headline = your sharpest interview quote (M04).
2. Analytics: Plausible (EU, cookieless — no banner needed) or GA4 if you must. Install before the first visitor.
3. UTM convention — every link you ever share, tagged: `?utm_source=linkedin|ads|email|direct&utm_campaign=m04test`. No UTM = traffic doesn't count (rubric rule).
4. Form → auto-append to a sheet (built-in integrations or one Make.com scenario). The sheet IS your lead list for M08.

2. Payment in 10 minutes (do it in M08/M09, prep it now)

1. Stripe account → Payment Link (no code, takes 5 minutes) — or PayPal business link as fallback.
2. Put the price from your pricing test on it. Send it WHILE on the call.
3. B2B prefers invoices: template with the 7 fields (see LEGAL_BASICS + M09), numbered from 001.
4. One shared team account for money — never someone's private PayPal.

3. Interview capture that can't be faked (5 min)

1. Ask permission (LEGAL_BASICS one-liner) → phone voice memo.
2. Transcribe with any Whisper-based tool; paste the 2-3 verbatim gold quotes into the Toolkit's Interview Log — with name and date, same day (they rot overnight).
3. Naming: `YYYY-MM-DD_firstname_segment.m4a` in the team drive.

4. The Toolkit is the single source of truth

Interview Log → feeds every check-in · Kill Criteria Log → thresholds BEFORE tests (M04+) · Experiment Tracker → one row per test · Revenue Ladder tab → the bars. If it’s not in the Toolkit, it didn’t happen.

5. Team ops (from Module 10, applies from week 1)

One owner per metric · weekly bets, not backlogs · automate the top 3 recurring chores with Make.com when they start eating founder-hours. No Snowflake. No Jira. You are five people with a payment link.
