WHERE WE ARE · THE COURSE

From alone to a team

Thirteen sessions from first idea to first revenue. What teams have by now:

Three problem hypotheses
Kickoff (M00)

Conversations with named people
Kickoff (M00)

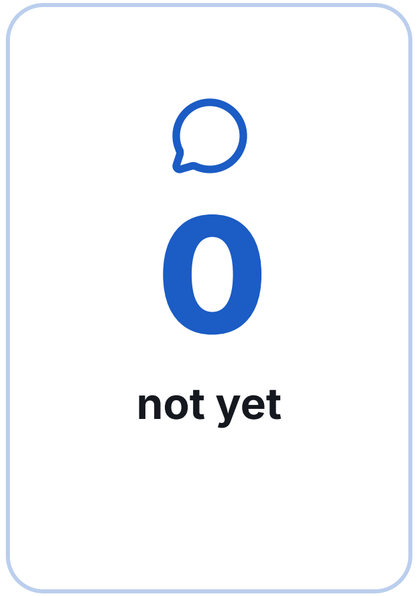

A one-minute problem pitch
Kickoff (M00)

CHECK-IN · SHOW OF HANDS

How many named people did you talk to?

Hands up for your band. One click on the band per hand

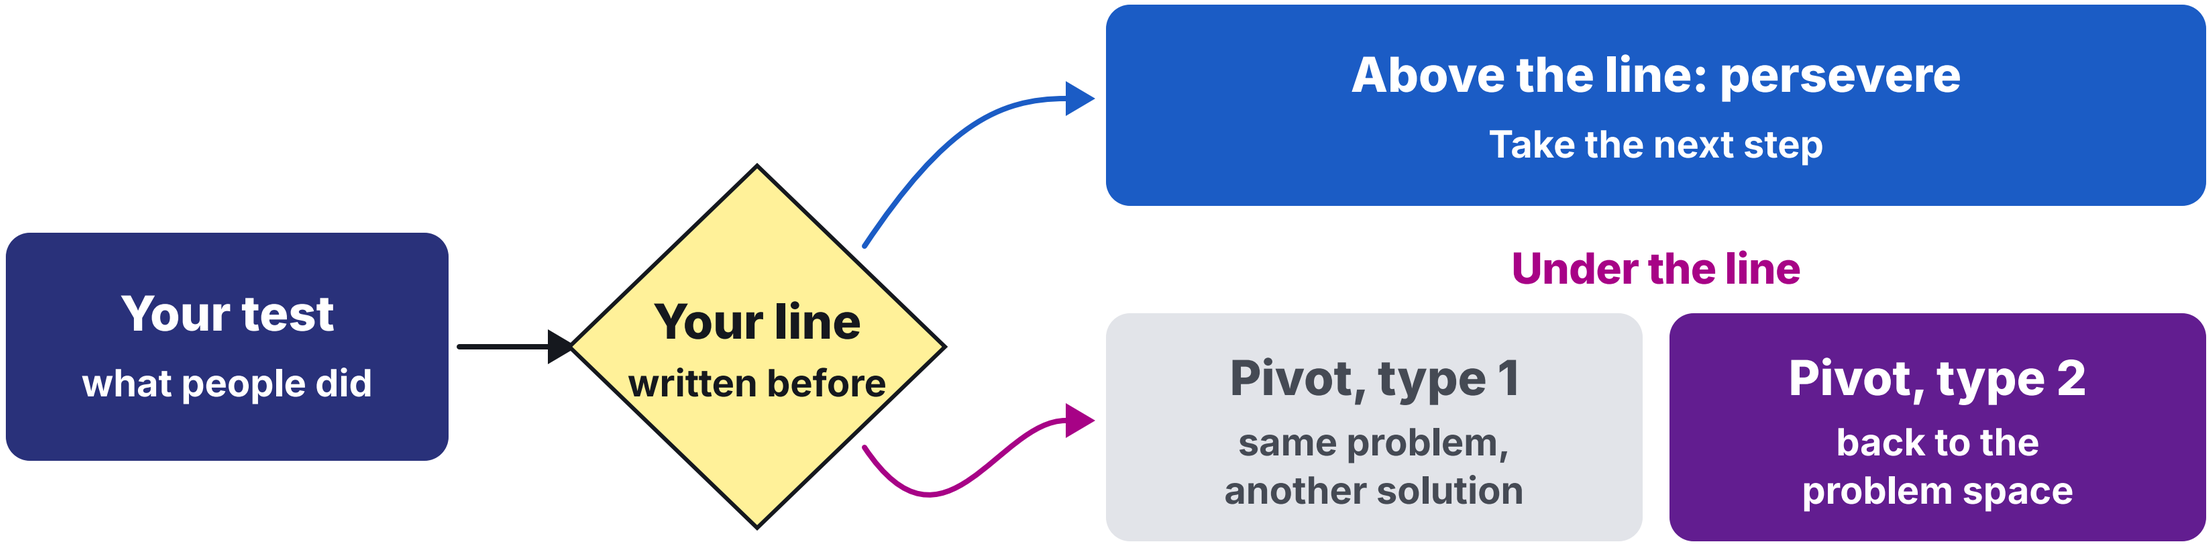

2:00

PIVOT OR PERSEVERE

Under your line? That is a decision, not a failure

Your hypothesis survived its kill line, or you test the next one. Both are progress

Both are progress. The only miss: no line, so no decision

FRAMEWORK Pivot or persevere after Ries, E. (2011), The Lean Startup. Pivot types as in the course Glossary.

ACCOUNTABILITY

Report what you did, not what you planned

User interactions?

What did you learn?

New revenue?

Why did they pay?

Shipped?

Why does it matter?

🦄 Report target vs. actual in small groups

CHAPTER 1 OF 9

Aim it: startup or small business

Decide what you are building, a company designed to grow fast or one designed for profit.

01 ~~Previously on Ambitious Entrepreneurship~~

02 ~~Your presentations~~

03 Aim it: startup or small business

08 Workshop: find your team and test the fit

09 Case discussion

INPUT 1 OF 4 · AIM IT · THREE QUESTIONS

Before you team up: what are you building?

What separates a startup from a small business?

Why do investors care?

Which number do you optimise?

FIRST QUESTION · WHAT ARE YOU BUILDING TOGETHER?

“We're basically a startup.” Seriously?

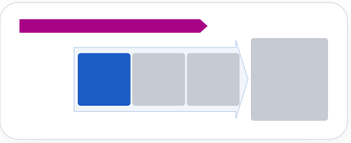

Both are real companies. Only one is built to grow

Startup

Small business

THE DIFFERENCE IS GROWTH

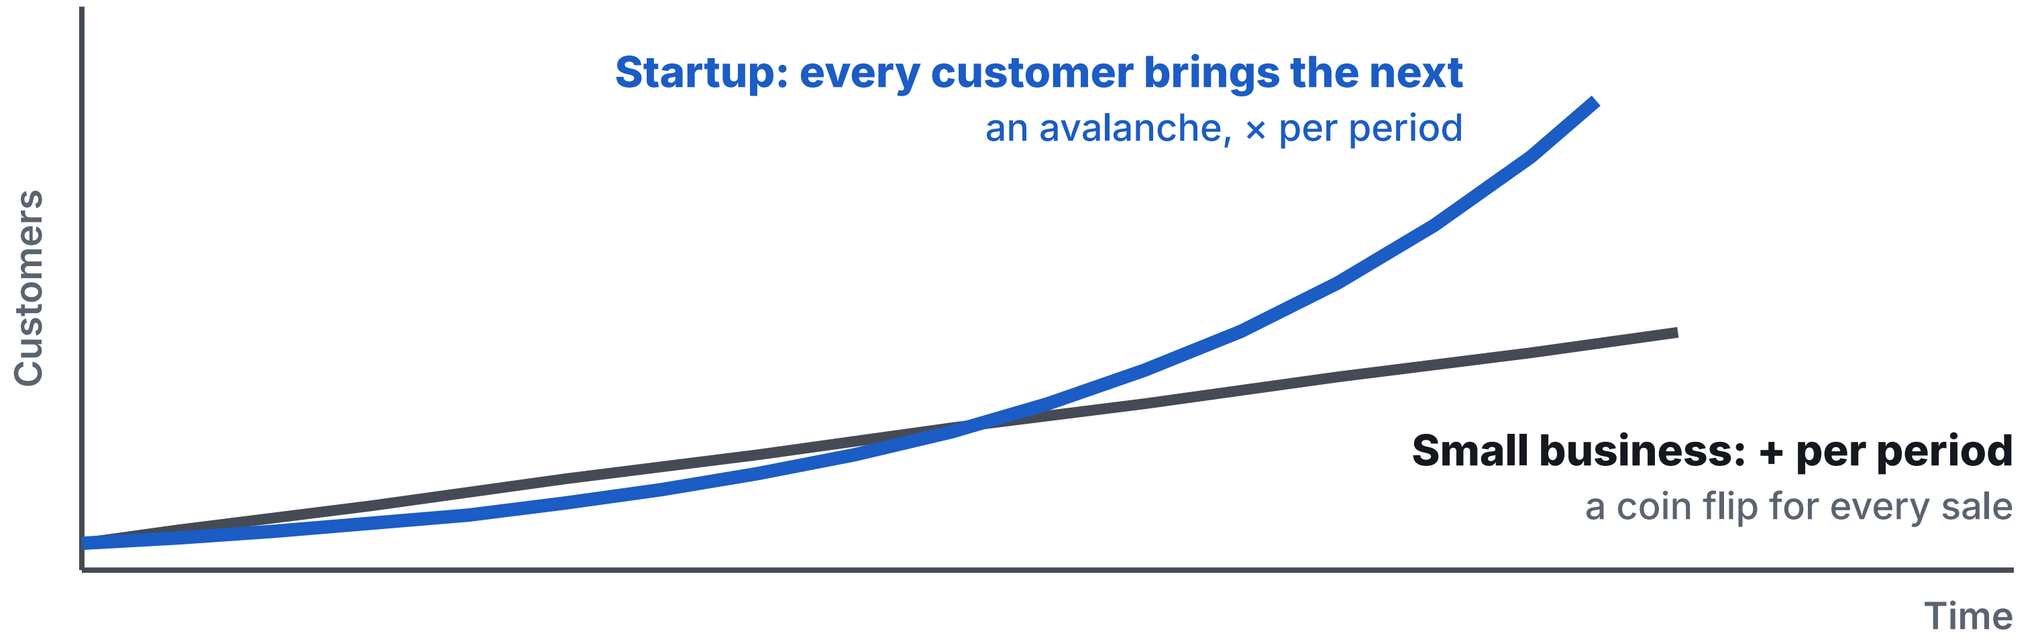

A startup optimises growth. A small business, profit

Startup = growth	Small business = profit
% more revenue or customers per week	revenue - expenses
Can run at a loss, so banks won't lend	Profit from assets, so banks will lend
Large user bases, high multiples	Steady returns, lower multiples

> TAKEAWAY Never either-or. Startups should be efficient too. It is about the core metric

THE MATHS · 1 OF 3 · AVALANCHE OR COIN FLIP

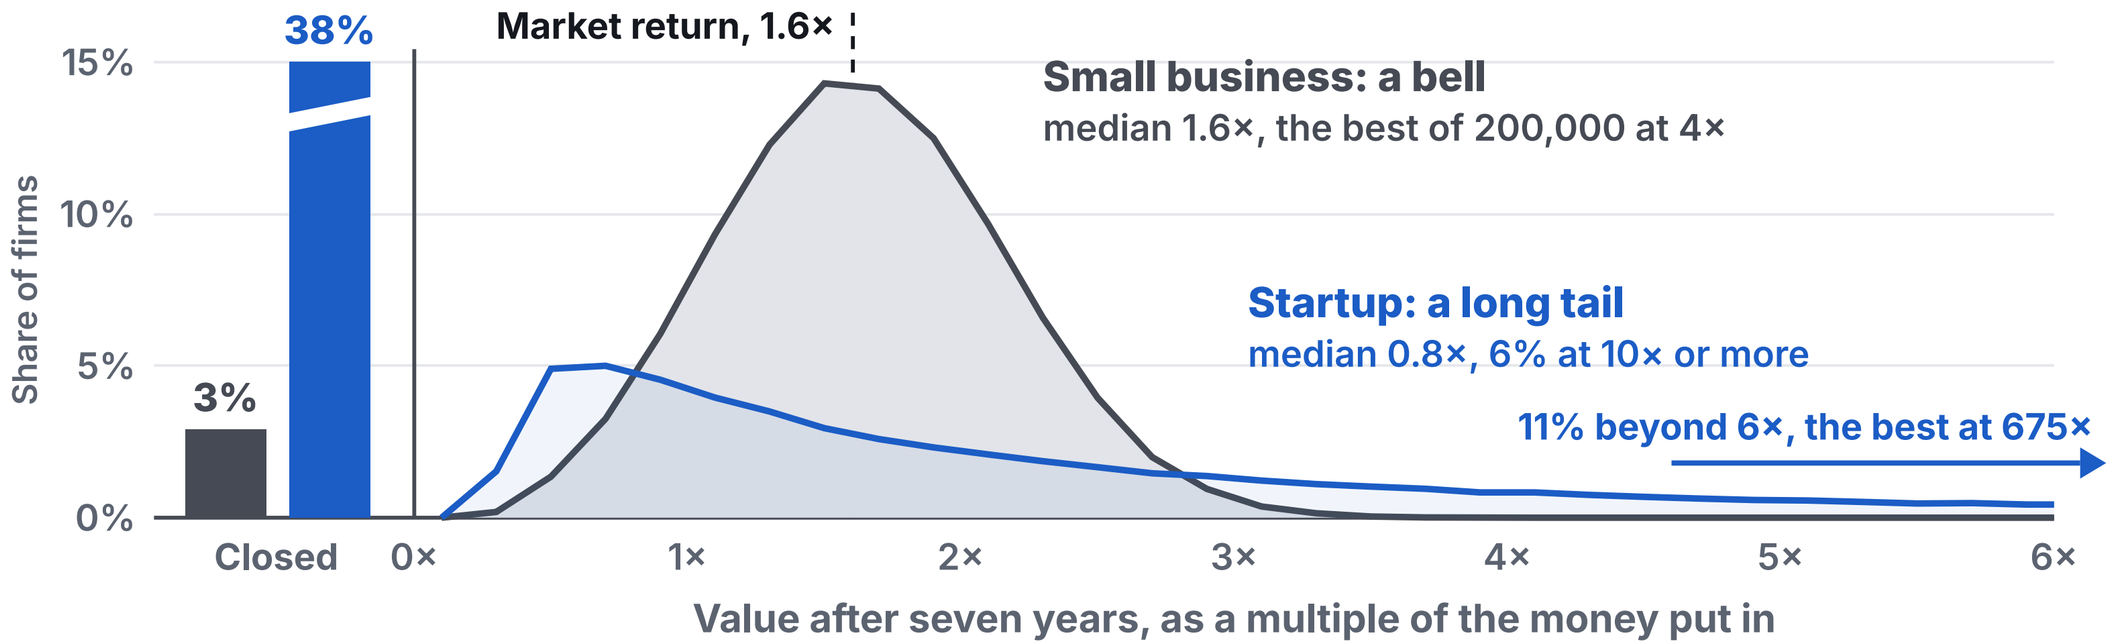

Each customer brings the next, or each sale starts from zero

THE MATHS · 2 OF 3 · WHERE THEY LAND

Small businesses land on a bell, startups on a long tail

200,000 simulated firms of each kind, seven years, one euro in

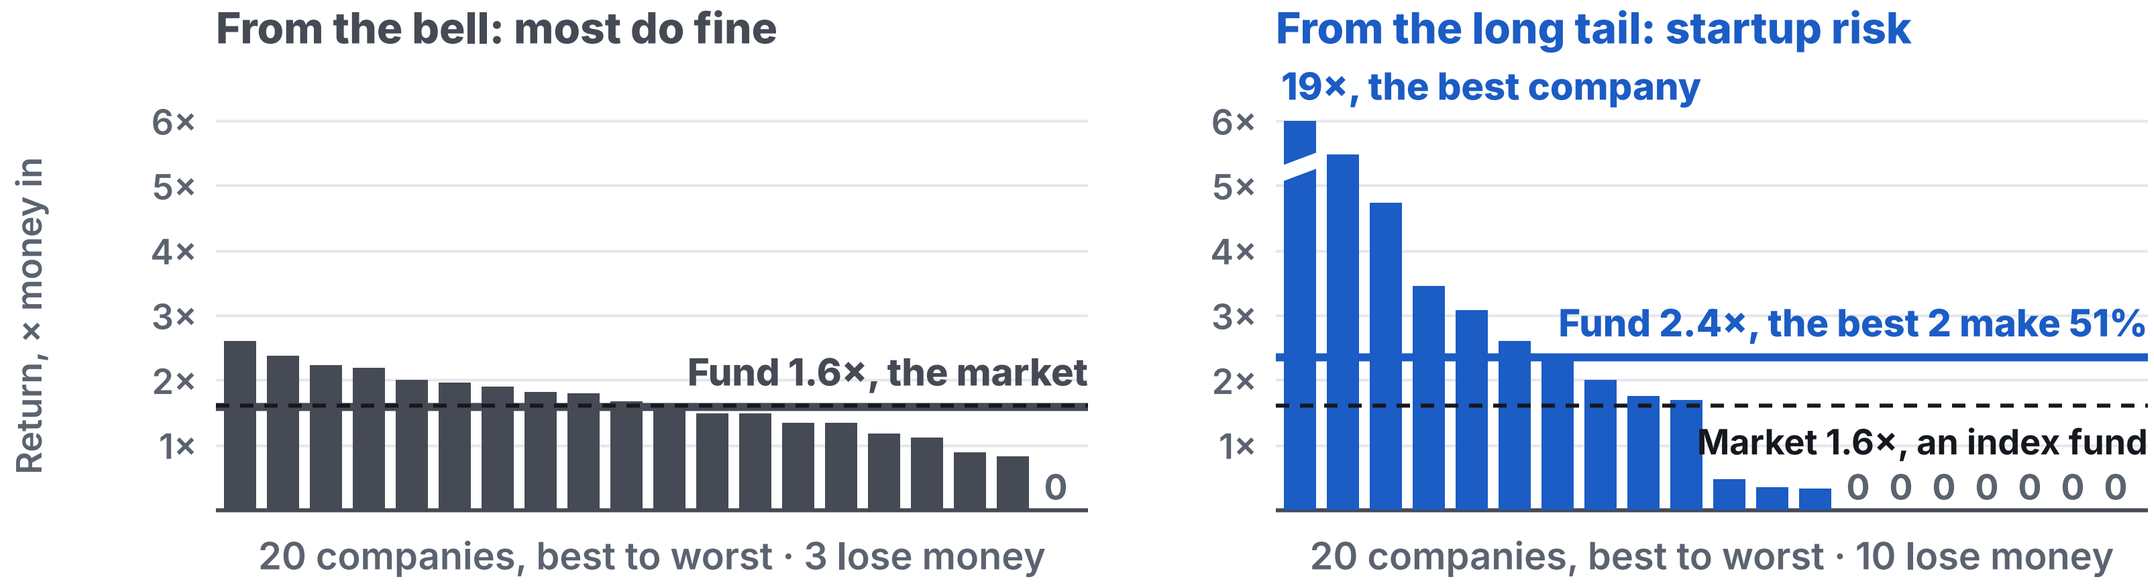

ILLUSTRATIVE Simulation for this course, parameters in the notes. Startup side fitted to Evans (2016).

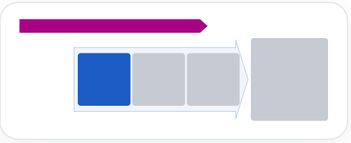

THE MATHS · 3 OF 3 · WHAT INVESTORS BUY

If most did fine, a VC would just own the market

A VC buys startup risk, so it expects most to fail

ILLUSTRATIVE Simulation for this course, one typical fund of 20 out of 10,000. Market return 7% a year.

THE DATA · WHY INVESTORS CARE

Investors fund the tail, not the average

6% of deals made 60% of the returns

Deals that returned 10× or more · share of all deals

6%

What those deals returned · share of all returns

60%

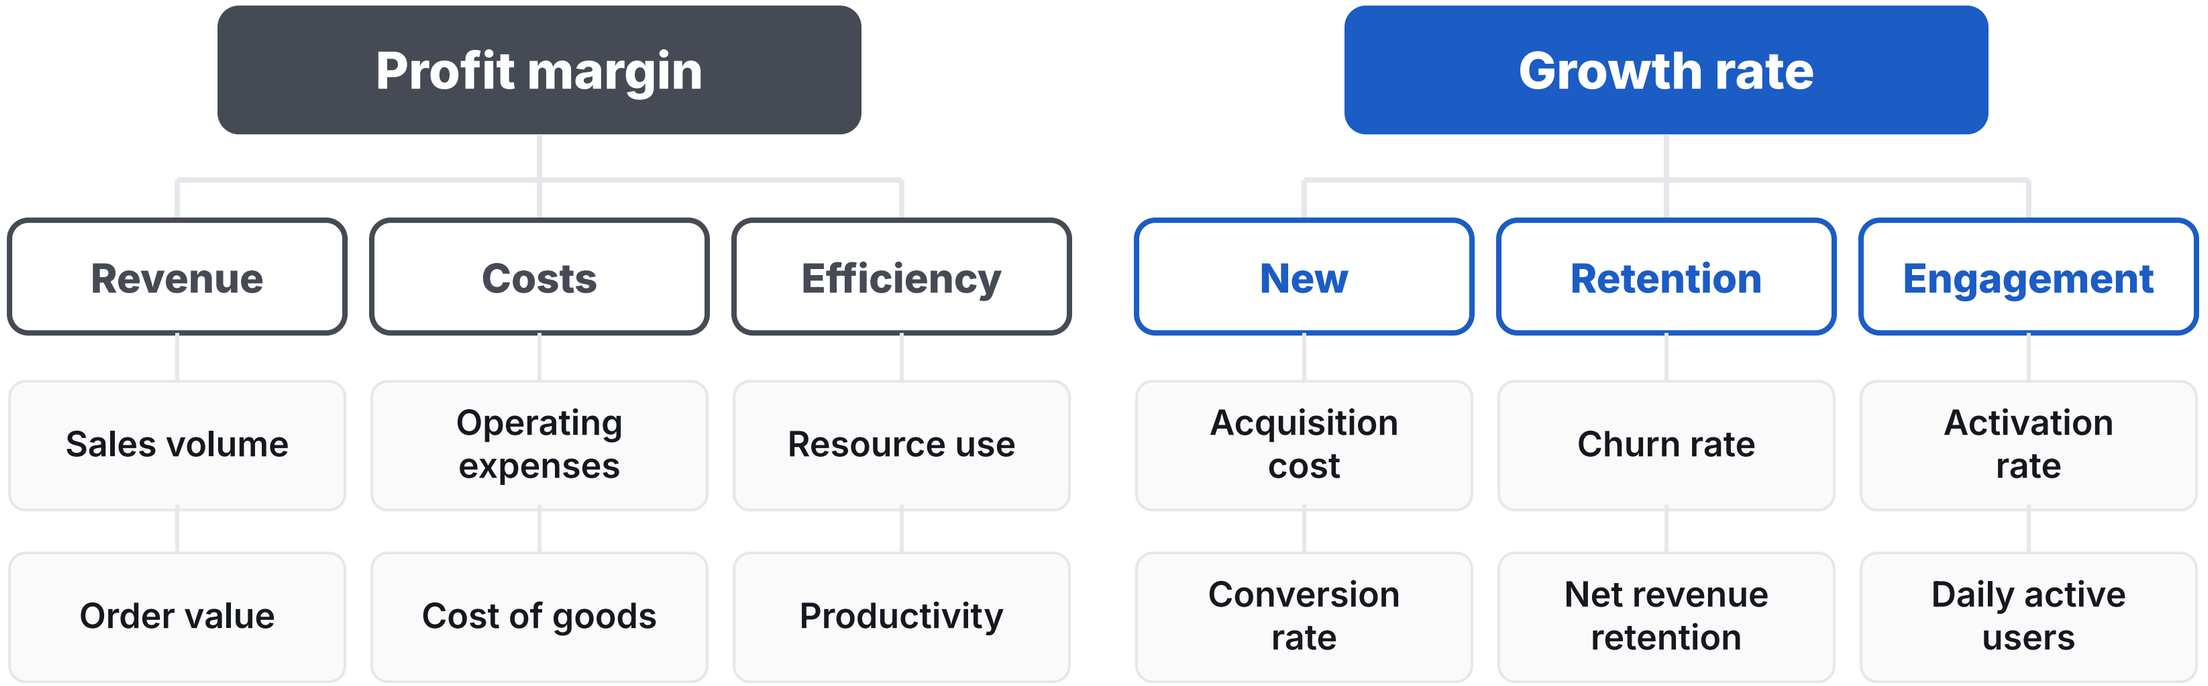

Deals that returned less than they cost · about half

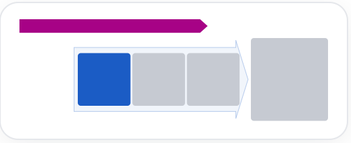

about 50%

DATA Evans, B. (2016). In praise of failure. Horsley Bridge data, about 7,000 VC investments, 1985 to 2014. Bars to scale.

KPI TREES

Pick your number, growth rate or profit margin

NOW YOU · ALONE · 2 MINUTES

Which number would you wake up for?

Startup — Growth rate of what, per week?

Small biz — Margin on what, per sale?

How far — Where in ten years?

2:00

OUTPUT

One number, one ambition

INPUT 1 OF 4 · AIM IT · THE ANSWERS

Aim it: decide growth or profit first

What separates a startup from a small business?

Growth. A startup optimises growth, a small business profit

Why do investors care?

They fund the tail: 6% of deals made 60% of the returns

Which number do you optimise?

Growth rate per week for a startup, profit margin for a small business

Staff it: why teams matter

Growth is a team sport, so cover tech, product and sales, not just people like you.

01 ~~Previously on Ambitious Entrepreneurship~~

02 ~~Your presentations~~

03 ~~Aim it: startup or small business~~

04 Staff it: why teams matter

09 Case discussion

INPUT 2 OF 4 · STAFF IT · THREE QUESTIONS

Why build it together?

Why not found alone?

Which skills must a team cover?

Where do gaps come from?

WHY TEAMS MATTER

It's dangerous to go alone

Founding is hard enough. Share the load

Alone: all of it, every day

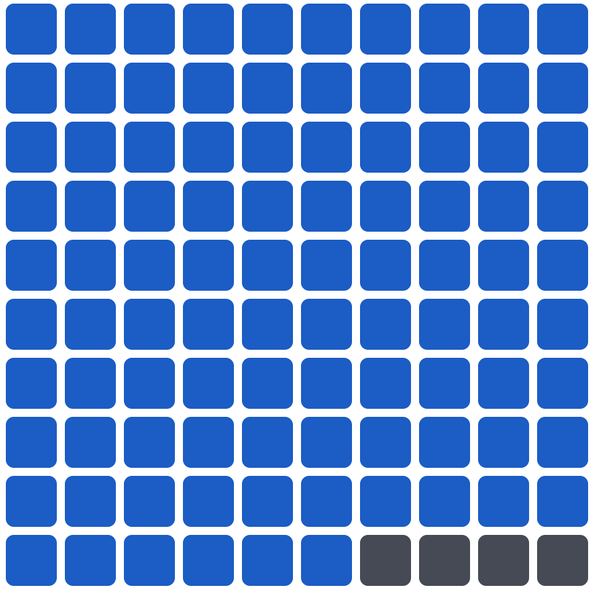

Together: one short stack each

Title after the line in The Legend of Zelda (Nintendo, 1986).

THE EVIDENCE

96 of YC's top 100 had a co-founder

Solo founders start 30% of companies, get 14.7% of the cash

96 of YC's top 100 came with a co-founder

4 came alone

WHAT YOU WANT IN A TEAM · CORNERSTONE

Show you can execute in tech, product and sales

Three founders, three different bars

ILLUSTRATIVE Founder skill bars, heights as Bastian drew them.

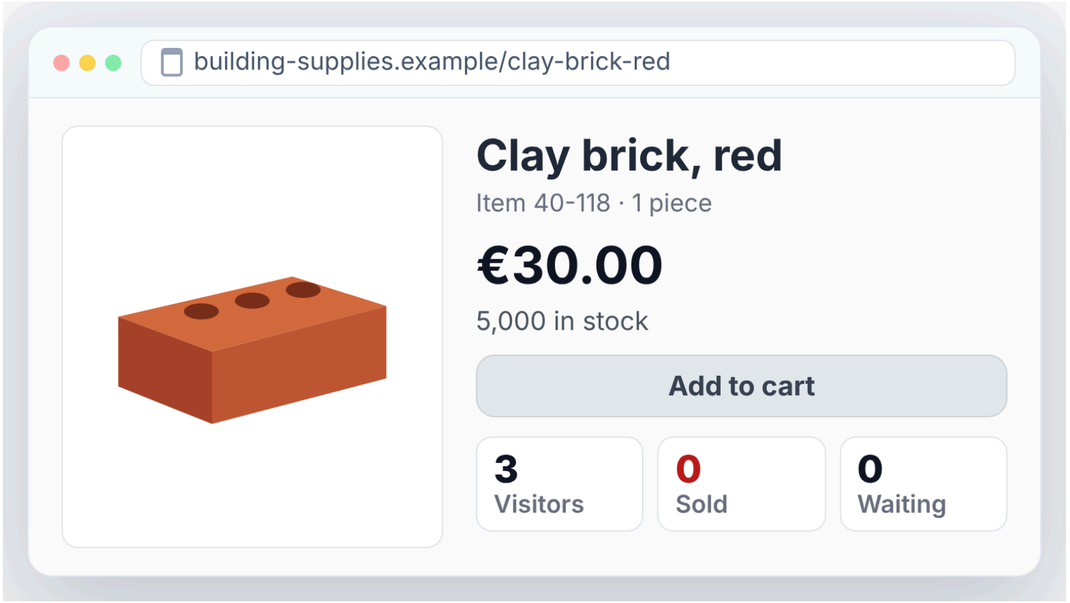

PRODUCT AND SALES

Same brick. Product and sales make the queue

Tech alone is a brick

Tech alone

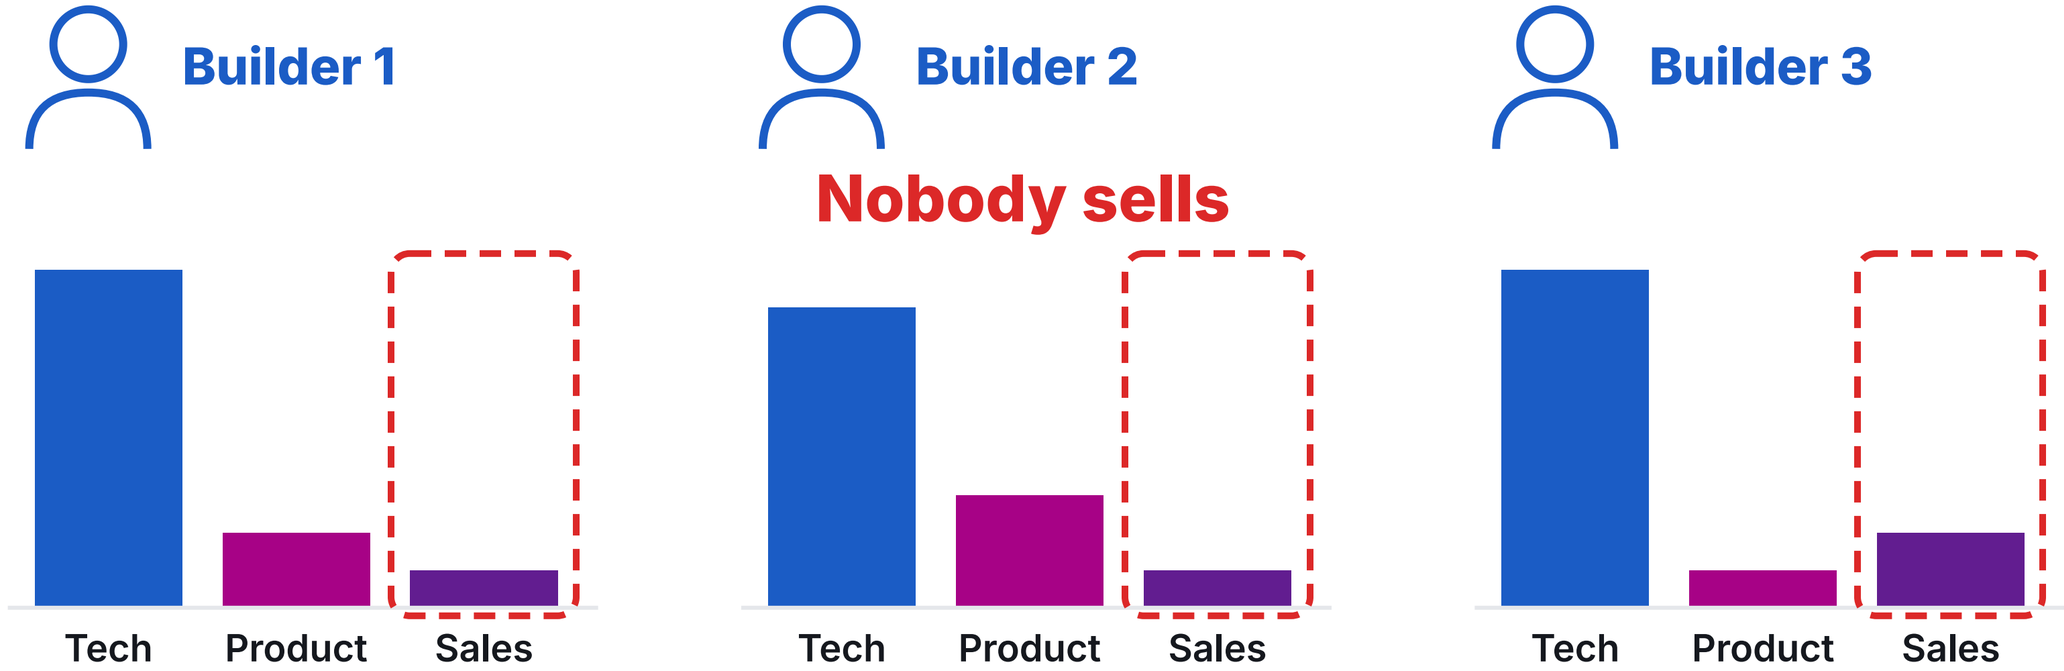

Tech, product and sales

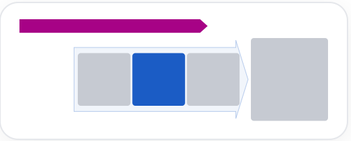

WHO WE PICK

We pick people like us, and get gaps

Similarity and strong ties shape founding teams most

RESEARCH Ruef, M., Aldrich, H. E., & Carter, N. M. (2003). American Sociological Review, 68(2). Bars illustrative.

NOW YOU · ALONE · 2 MINUTES

Name your gap

Gap — Which skill stops you building or selling?

Person — Who do you know who has it?

Close — Learn, recruit or pay?

2:00

OUTPUT

One gap, one name

INPUT 2 OF 4 · STAFF IT · THE ANSWERS

Staff it: cover tech, product and sales

Why not found alone?

Founding is hard. 96 of YC's top 100 came with a co-founder

Which skills must a team cover?

Tech, product and sales, shown in what you have executed

Where do gaps come from?

We pick people like us, so nobody sells

Commit to it: a long-term relationship

Find co-founders like customers, test the fit under load and write down who decides what.

CONVERGENT OR DIVERGENT

After a shock, do you roll back together?

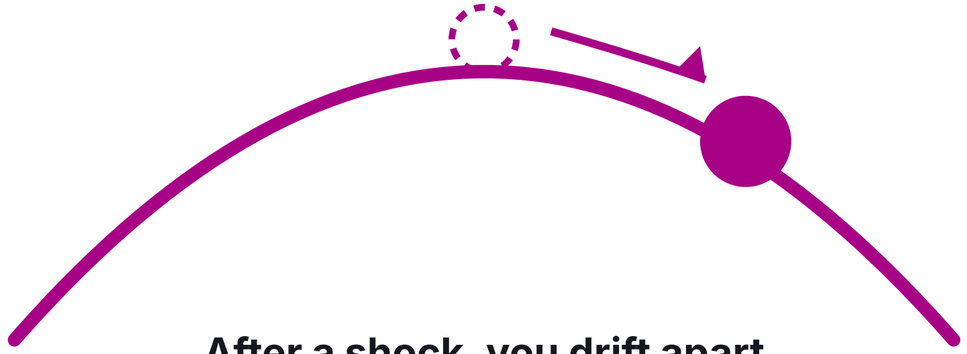

Test it like a lab. Pressure first, then everyday work, not a retreat

Convergent: a valley

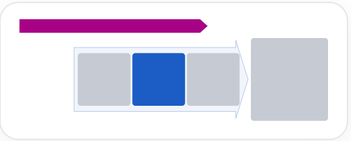

After a shock, everyday work brings you back together

Divergent: a hill

After a shock, you drift apart unless someone pushes it back

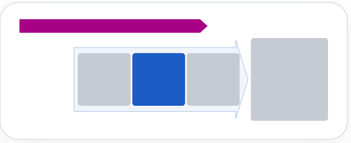

TEST THE FIT

Fit shows under load, not over coffee

Use the days until next time as the trial

Day 1	Days 2 to 6	Day 7	Day 7
Workshop	Real work	Feedback round	Confirm
Six questions, draft agreement	Conversations, two side by side	Situation, behaviour, impact, change	Every founder signs off

BEFORE YOU COMMIT

Ask the hard questions before they get hard

Alone first, then side by side

1 Hours

2 Savings

3 Ambition

4 Role

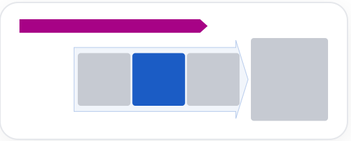

5 Problem

6 Leaving

Instructions

1. Save your own copy of this file.
2. Answer every question alone and honestly, before you see anyone else's answers.
3. Put your answers next to your potential co-founders' answers.
4. Talk through every match and every gap, and ask why, for them and for yourself. Write what you agree into the Team sheet of your Student Toolkit.

How you work
1	How many hours a week do you want to work, and for how long can you keep that up? Which pace sounds great to you, and which sounds unbearable? Would you work harder in the first year than later?

EQUITY

Settle roles first, shares second

A split every founder feels is fair keeps the team together

1 Roles

Who does what, who decides

2 Commitment

Hours, money, how long

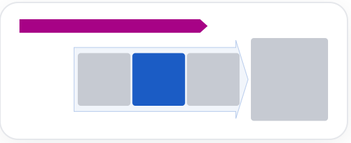

3 Shares

A split every founder feels is fair

Equal splits go with less outside money.

The authors find selection, not cause

NOW YOU · PAIRS · 3 MINUTES

Would you co-found with your neighbour?

What would you need to know first?

3:00

INPUT 3 OF 4 · COMMIT TO IT · THE ANSWERS

Commit to it: test the fit, then write it down

Where do you find co-founders?

Like customers, with a pipeline. Choose people you have seen work

How do you test the fit?

Under load, not over coffee. Use the days until next time as a trial

What do you settle before you commit?

The hard questions, roles before shares, and who owns which decision

Keep it honest: feedback and candor

You will disagree, so learn to give and take feedback in four moves.

01 ~~Previously on Ambitious Entrepreneurship~~

02 ~~Your presentations~~

03 ~~Aim it: startup or small business~~

09 Case discussion

INPUT 4 OF 4 · KEEP IT HONEST · THREE QUESTIONS

How do you disagree well?

Why does feedback so often backfire?

How do you give it?

How do you take it?

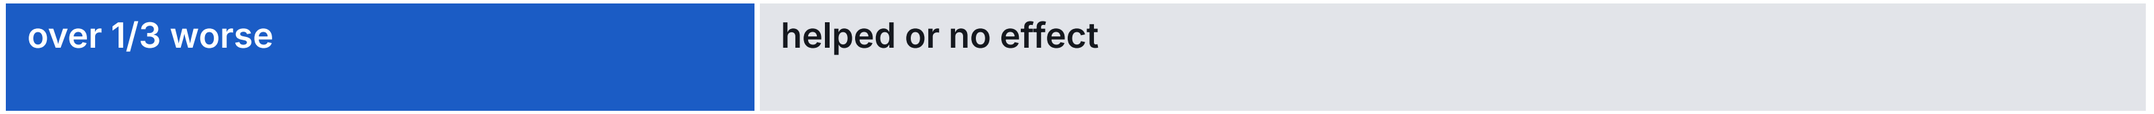

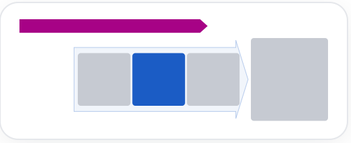

WHY IT MATTERS

Over a third of feedback makes things worse

Aim at the task, not the person

Feedback interventions · 607 effects, 23,663 observations

GIVING FEEDBACK · CREATING THE MESSAGE

Feedback in four moves: situation, behaviour, impact, change

To your co-founder, after the pitch

Situation
When and where

In yesterday's investor pitch,

Behaviour
Only what you saw

you showed numbers on slide 10 that didn't match our model.

Impact
On you, on the company

Two investors asked about it, and we lost ten minutes.

Change
What you ask for

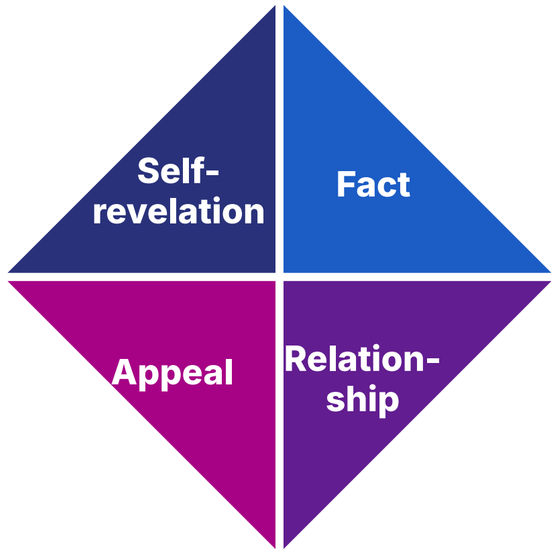

Next time, can we check the numbers together the day before?

Adapted from the DESC script of Bower, S. A., & Bower, G. H. (1976). Asserting yourself. Addison-Wesley. The message is a made-up example.

RECEIVING FEEDBACK · DECODING THE MESSAGE

Every message has four sides

Hear the appeal, not only the facts

Sender Receiver

Fact
“The financial projections in the pitch were wrong.”

Self-revelation
“I'm worried we won't convince investors.”

Relationship
“As your co-founder, I want to help.”

Appeal
“Let's fix the projections together.”

RADICAL CANDOR

Care personally and challenge directly

We want to grow through direct feedback

CARE PERSONALLY

Ruinous Empathy
Care personally but don't challenge directly

Radical Candor
Care personally and challenge directly

SILENCE — CHALLENGE DIRECTLY

Manipulative Insincerity
Neither care nor challenge directly

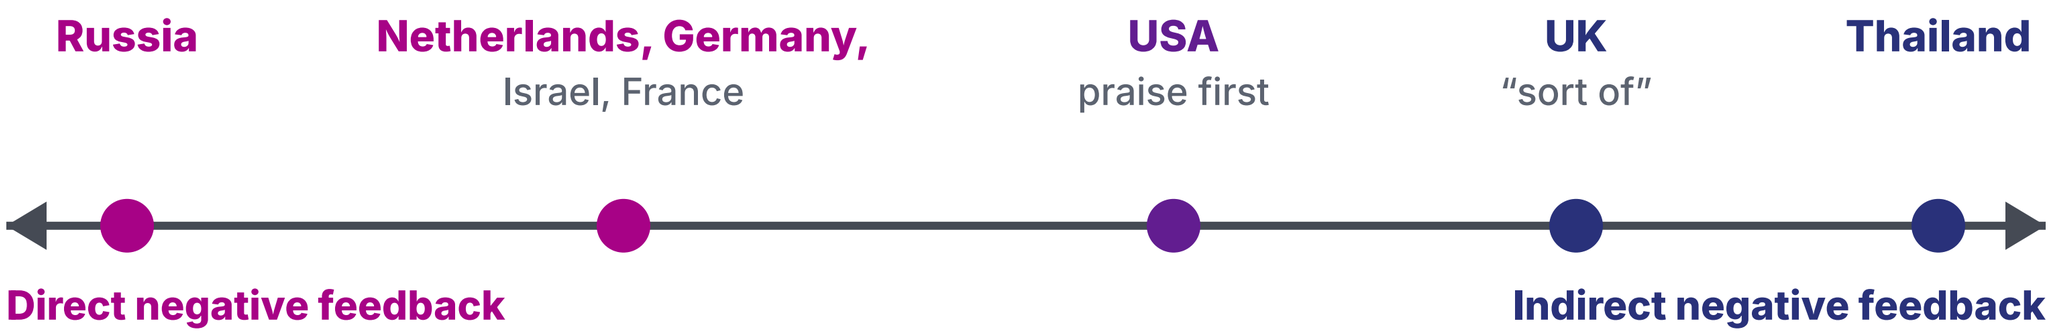

Obnoxious Aggression
Challenge directly but don't care personally

DON'T CARE AT ALL

CULTURE

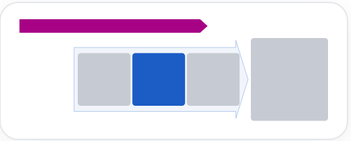

How direct is too direct depends on culture

Ask your co-founder how they like feedback

Upgraders: “absolutely”, “totally” Downgraders: “a little bit”

FRAMEWORK Zones after Meyer, E. (2014). The culture map. PublicAffairs. Meyer, E. (2015). Giving negative feedback across cultures. INSEAD Knowledge. Positions approximate.

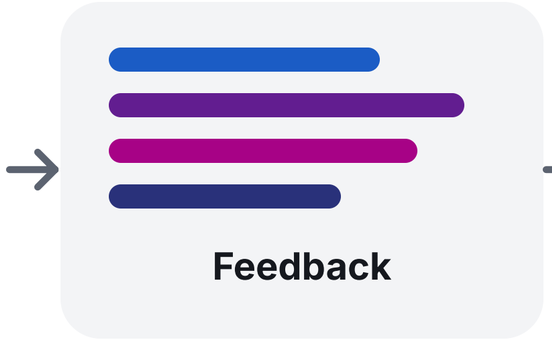

THE 4A CHEAT SHEET FOR CANDOR

Give to help. Receive to learn

You give

Aim to assist
Help them, not your ego

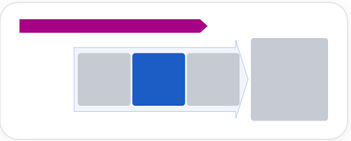

Actionable
Say what to do differently

They receive

Appreciate
Thank them, then listen

Accept or discard
Your call, after thinking

NOW YOU · ALONE · 3 MINUTES

Write one feedback in four moves

Situation — When and where?

Behaviour — What did you see?

Impact — What did it cause?

Change — What do you ask for?

3:00

OUTPUT

Four lines, ready to give

INPUT 4 OF 4 · KEEP IT HONEST · THE ANSWERS

Keep it honest: care and challenge

Why does feedback so often backfire?

Over a third makes things worse. Aim at the task, not the person

How do you give it?

In four moves: situation, behaviour, impact, the change you ask for

How do you take it?

Hear the appeal, not only the facts. Thank them, then decide

ILLUSTRATIVE Founder skill bars.

REFLECTION 1 OF 3 · THE CONTENT

What could you apply?

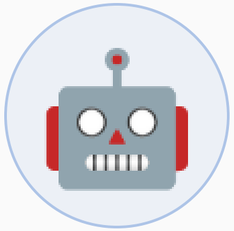

What could you apply?

What gave you a hard time?

REFLECTION 2 OF 3 · THE PROCESS

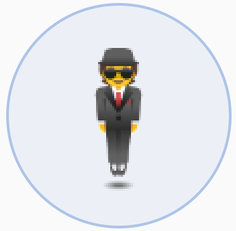

Man vs. machine

Where did AI actually help you?

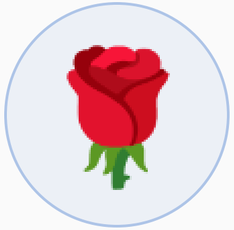

Where was your genius needed?

What are your best hacks to share?

REFLECTION 3 OF 3 · THE RESULTS

Rose, thorn, bud

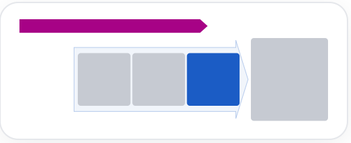

What was the breakthrough today?

What was the hardest part today?

What is an idea/feature you didn't have time to finish, but want to explore later?

HOMEWORK UNTIL NEXT TIME

Hold 10 conversations per student in your team's shared problem space, each with a named person and one verbatim quote, and end the week with a team agreement every founder confirmed after your end-of-week feedback round.

10 each + 1 agreement

The learning floor is 5 conversations per student and the confirmed agreement.

No kill line in Team foundations. Your review date is in the Team sheet.

HOMEWORK · HOW TO DO IT

Two jobs until next time, the team and the talks

THE TEAM

USE THE WEEK AS YOUR TRIAL

Fit shows under load, not over coffee

- → Answer the full Co-Founder Matchmaking Assessment alone, then talk through every gap
- → Hold at least two talks with a co-founder listening, then swap
- → Two builders and nobody selling? Give selling an owner by your midweek day, or recruit one
- → Hold your feedback round at the end of the week
- → Then update and confirm the agreement

Output the confirmed agreement

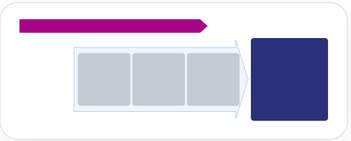

THE TALKS

FIND YOUR PEOPLE, STAY IN THE PROBLEM

Ten conversations per student in your shared problem space

- → Start with Kickoff (M00) contacts and their intros, people you see daily and where the work happens
- → Review sites and AI deep research show where they complain
- → Ask about the last time it happened and what it cost. Don't pitch. Log every problem, unranked
- → Record with the consent sentence in Legal Basics
- → Get a blind second opinion. Give an AI your raw notes, minus personal data and your favourite idea

Output talks in the Interview Log

HOMEWORK · WHAT GOOD LOOKS LIKE

Good names who decides and quotes named people

By Finding ideas (M02). Made-up example, the same team as in the workshop

	GOOD	WEAK
Agreement	“Selling: the designer owns it. Ties: the engineer decides by Friday.”	“We decide everything together.”
Talks	“10 named lab managers, quoted. 4 lose over 3 hours a week on orders.”	“15 chats with friends.”

WORKSHOP · STEP 1 OF 3

Pitch your problem, find your people

1 STEP 1 · 30 MIN

PITCH YOUR PROBLEM, FIND YOUR PEOPLE

Know your own answers, then meet your people

→ 10 min alone: rate tech, product, sales 1 to 10, plus joy
→ Six questions: hours, savings, ambition, role, problem, leaving
→ 10 min: no team? One-minute pitch and the skill you miss
→ Existing teams pitch only their gap
→ 10 min: compare hours, money, ambition first. Teams of 2 to 4

WORKSHOP · STEP 1 · ALONE, 10 MINUTES

Six questions, alone first

1 Hours

How many hours a week can you give, now and in six months?

2 Savings

How many months can you live on your savings?

3 Ambition

Startup, growing customers fast, or small business, growing profit? How big should this get?

4 Role

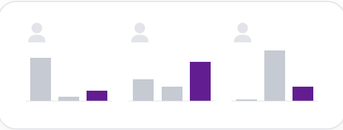

Which role do you want, and what will you never do?

5 Problem

Which problem would you work on for five years?

6 Leaving

When should a co-founder leave, and what happens to their shares?

WORKSHOP · STEP 2 OF 3

Test the fit before you commit

2 STEP 2 · 35 MIN

TEST THE FIT BEFORE YOU COMMIT

Find the dealbreakers now, while they are cheap

→ 10 min: answers side by side. Agree, talk, or dealbreaker?
→ 5 min: skill bars side by side. Who builds, who sells?
→ Name the gap. Learn, recruit or pay?
→ 10 min: startup or small business, how far, and why
→ 10 min: draft agreement in the Toolkit's Team sheet

Output Dealbreakers named, a draft agreement

3 STEP 3 · 25 MIN

FIRST FEEDBACK, THEN COMMIT

Give feedback while it is cheap, then start the week

→ 10 min: round the circle, one piece of feedback each
→ Situation, behaviour, impact, the change you ask for
→ The receiver says "thank you" and asks one question
→ 10 min: floor or full bar, midweek day
→ 5 min: book first talks before you leave

Output Feedback held, targets, first talks booked
