WHERE WE ARE · THE COURSE

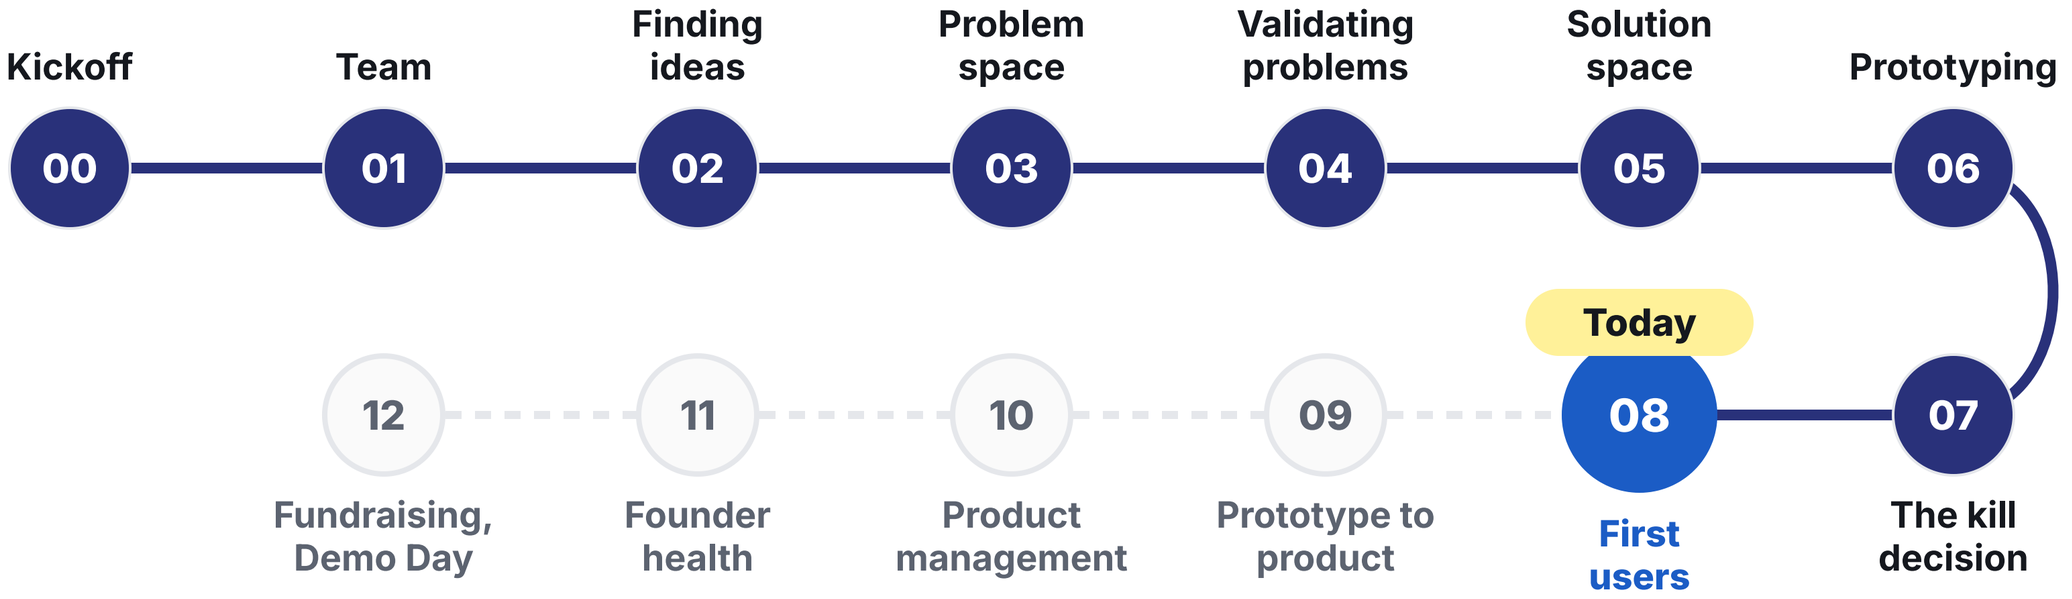

From a verdict to the first euro

Thirteen sessions from first idea to first revenue. What teams have by now:

A live MVP people used
Prototyping (M06)

A verdict: Go, Pivot or Kill
The kill decision (M07)

An offer with a price and names
The kill decision (M07)

CHECK-IN · SHOW OF HANDS

Go, Pivot or Kill. Did your line confirm it?

Go | Pivot | Kill

2:00

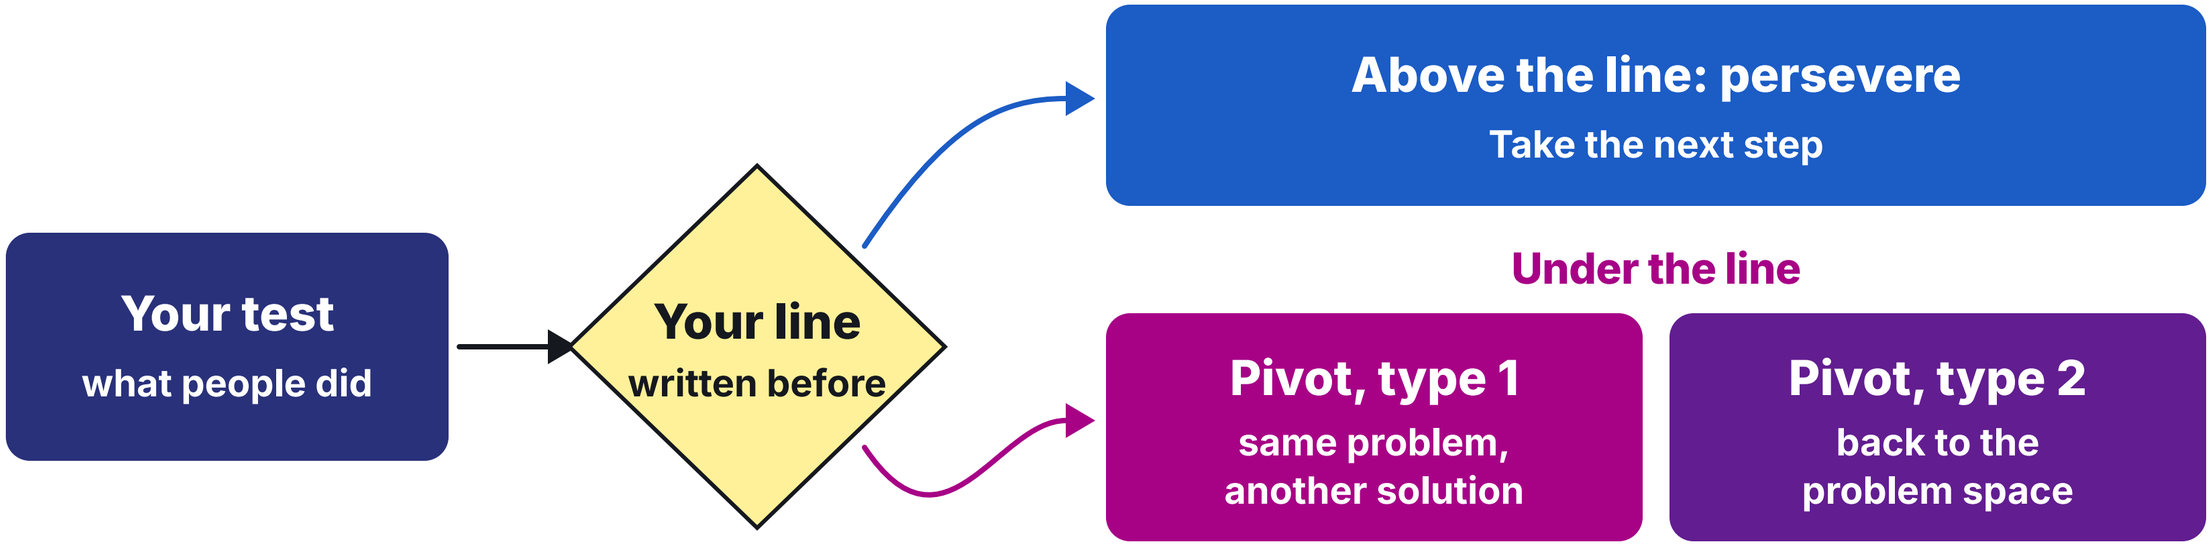

Confirmed or changed against your line?

And the offer and price you sell from today

PIVOT OR PERSEVERE

Under your line? That is a decision, not a failure

Every verdict is progress, and every verdict sells today

Both are progress. The only miss: no line, so no decision

FRAMEWORK Pivot or persevere after Ries, E. (2011), The Lean Startup. Pivot types as in the course Glossary.

ACCOUNTABILITY

Three questions, every session

1

User interactions?

What did you learn?

2

New revenue?

Why did they pay?

3

Shipped?

Why does it matter?

1

Where do your first ten customers come from?

3

And if you killed your idea?

The most common unscalable thing founders have to do at the start is to recruit users manually.

INPUT 2 OF 4 · SELL IT · THREE QUESTIONS

Who sells your first customers?

1

When do you switch from learning to selling?

2

Whom do you ask?

3

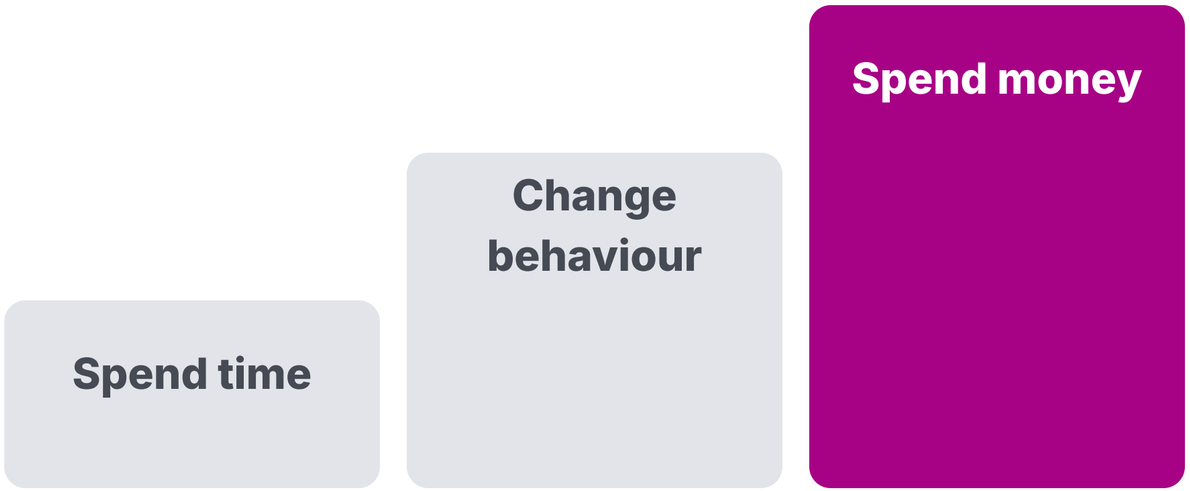

What happens after the first message?

SELL LIKE A FOUNDER

You're in luck. You're not selling used cars!

As a founder, you are the first salesperson

Sales = structured conversations that turn interest into commitment

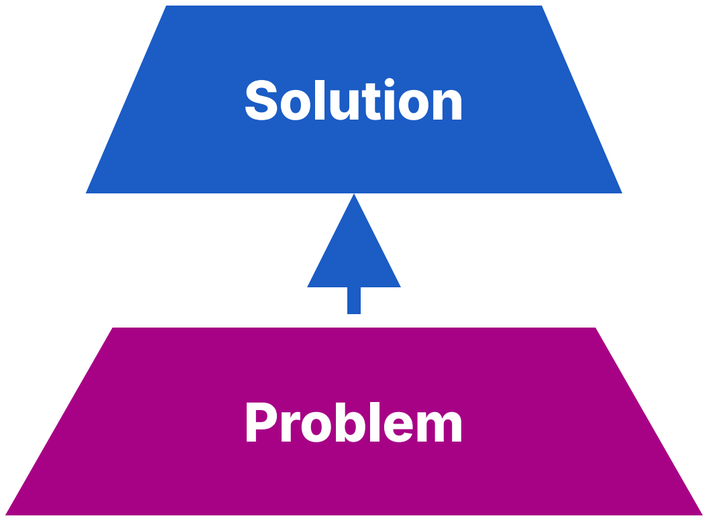

Kolysh (2026): the founder doing it personally is the advantage.

FROM DISCOVERY TO SALES

When the pattern repeats, start selling

Still 80% listening, 20% demo

Customer discovery
"I want to understand your problem and context"
Learning, not pitching

Sales conversation
"I think we can help, here's how"
Match their problem with your offer, ask for one next step

WHOM TO ASK

Ask people who pass all four

The Pain Map from Problem space (M03) already names who holds the budget

They like your value proposition

Every lecture ever

They have money

They can say yes to paying

Your first customers

They are hungry

They feel the pain right now

They are around

You can reach and serve them

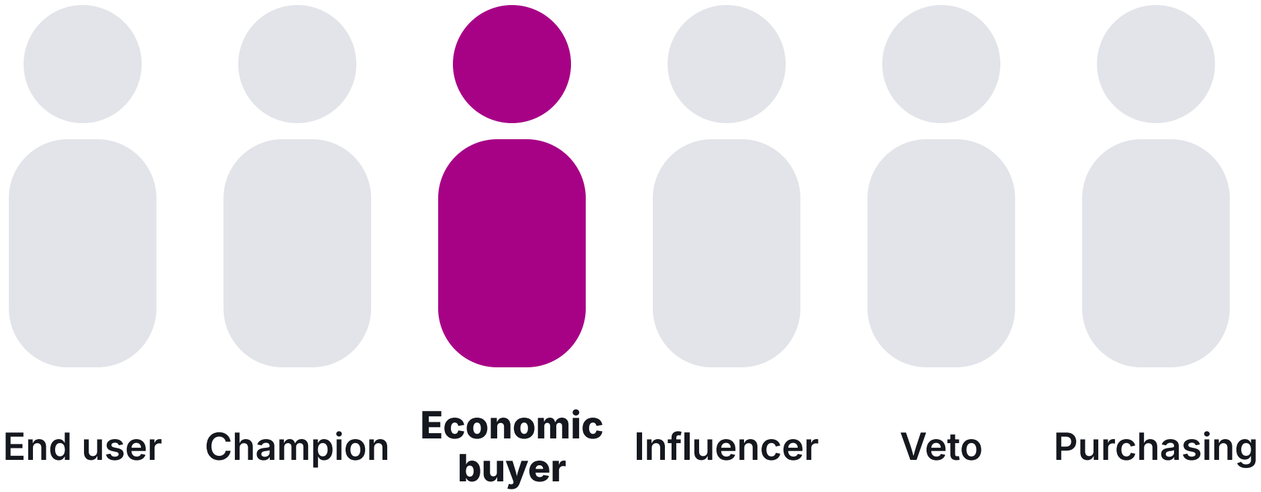

+ what else?

Depends on what you offer

WHOM TO ASK · B2B

In B2B, more than one person decides

Find the user, the champion and who pays

Ask your champion: "Who else has to say yes?"

WHOM TO ASK · B2B

Ask someone who can sign your price

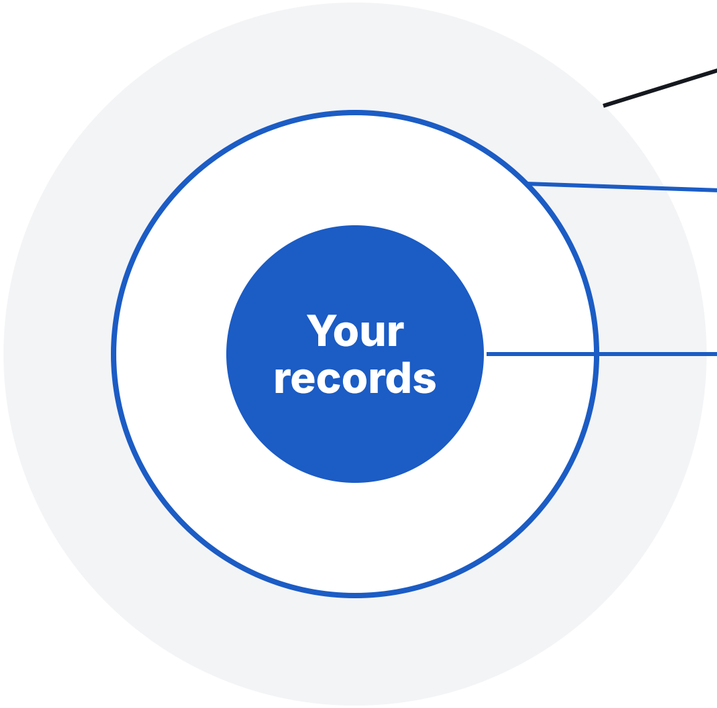

Signing limits at one large German corporate

TITLE	CAN SIGN UP TO	WHAT CONVINCES THEM
CEO	€10 million	10-year vision, P&L impact
CXO	€1 million	P&L impact, competitive advantage
SVP or VP	€500,000	Revenue gains, cost efficiency
Director	€100,000	Cost efficiency in €
Head	€50,000	Product benefit
Manager	€1,000	Product benefit

WHOM TO ASK

Friends open doors. Strangers pay

Start in your records, then one introduction away

Where your segment gathers · groups, events, forums

One introduction away · ask every buyer and every no for names

Your records · the ten from The kill decision (M07), first buyers, the Use Log, sign-ups, interviewees

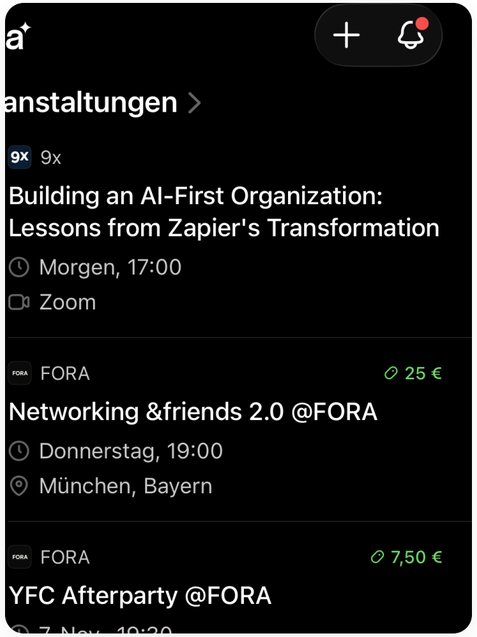

Friends, family, classmates
Ask them for introductions, not for money

WHOM TO ASK · RE-SHOWN FROM VALIDATING PROBLEMS (M04)

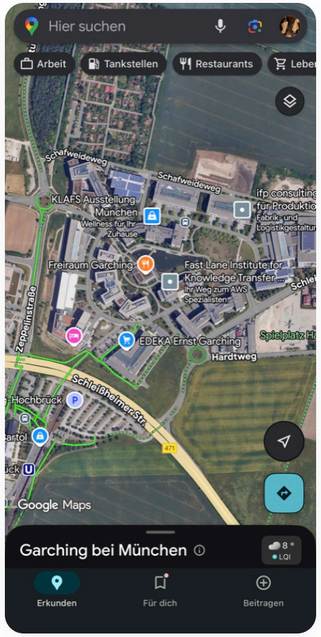

Name the room, not the channel

Go where they already complain in public

ONLINE COMMUNITIES · ONE NAMED EVENT

OFFLINE PLACES · A CANTEEN

Phone screenshots, Bastian, 2025. Kolysh (2026): find the place where the pain is expressed in public.

OUTREACH · 1 OF 2

Under 75 words. Read it out loud first

L Lena · agency recruiter · message

Hi Lena, in March you said "I lose a finalist every month and find out too late." (1) We now flag that by WhatsApp, €49 a month (2). Can I set it up with you Thursday at 10:30? 15 minutes. (3)

~~Hi! We're building an AI platform that revolutionises recruiting. Check out our website. Would you be interested?~~

Email · "Two minutes, five warning signs"

Hi Lena, we interviewed 14 recruiters about finalists who drop out. Here are the five warning signs they named. (1) If you like, I'll watch your current finalists for them. Thursday 10:30? (2)

CHECK BEFORE YOU SEND

As a rule of thumb, 1 high-quality lead is worth about

10–50 low-quality leads

Passes all four? Their words? One next step?

THE CALL

Prepare five minutes. Listen for the rest

Then ask for one next step

First 5 minutes
Prepared, not improvised

Goal of the call
Your walk-away (BATNA)
"Is this a good time to speak?"

They talk, you listen
About 80% of the time

Listening to reply
~~Evaluate~~ · ~~Probe~~
~~Advise~~ · ~~Interpret~~

Listening to understand
Mimic · Rephrase
Reflect

The ask
One next step

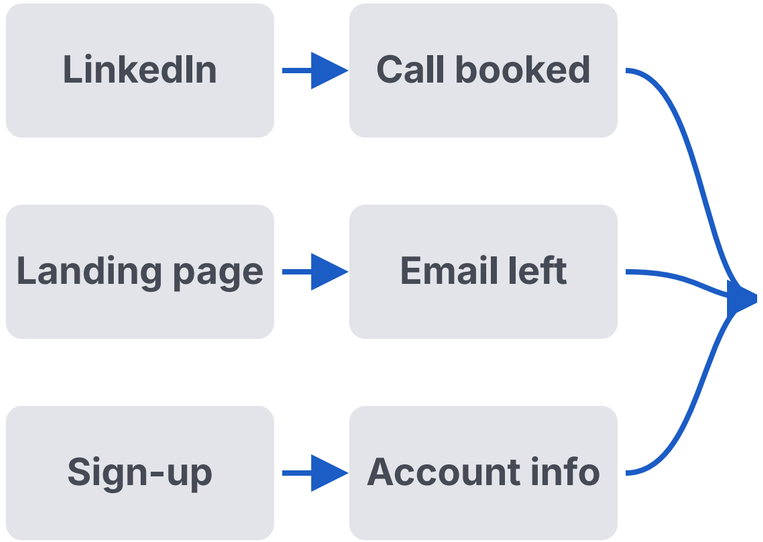

Rephrase their pain, then ask for the next step

Set up payment first. Then ask and follow up

1. Set up a way to get paid first, a team payment link (Team Stack, section 2) or an invoice from 001 (Legal Basics, section 4).

2. Start in your records, The ten from The kill decision (M07) first. Ask every buyer and every no for names. Then your segment's groups, found by AI research.

4. Get them on a call. Listen 80% of the time. Record only with consent.

5. Ask for the money there, at your price. Send the link while you talk.

   Watch out. "Would you pay?" is not an ask. A favour discount is not a sale.

1 STEP 1 · 25 MIN

NAME YOUR TEN, WRITE THE ASK

Ten people who pass all four, a message each

→ Confirm your verdict, offer and price
→ Pull names from your records, the ten from The kill decision (M07) first
→ Keep those who pass all four filters
→ Log the line, dated with your midweek day, first
→ Write in their words. Quote, offer, price, one next step

Output Ten names and messages, a dated line Minutes 25

GOOD

"Lena, you lose a finalist a month. We set it up in 20 minutes, €49 a month. Call at 10?"

WEAK

"We're revolutionizing recruiting with AI. See our website!"

25:00

WORKSHOP · STEP 2 OF 3

Ask live, set it up

2 STEP 2 · 40 MIN

ASK LIVE, SET IT UP

Every yes turned into use before the call ends

- → Rehearse with a co-founder or an AI, labelled as prep
- → Call whoever said yes to a demo, then message
- → Ask for the money at your price, then stay quiet
- → Set it up on a shared screen, send the link
- → Log every answer, objections word for word

Output Asks made, answers and objections logged

Minutes 40

GOOD

Six asked, two calls, Lena paid €49 by link. Her objection, "Who types in our candidates?"

WEAK

Ten LinkedIn messages with a link. "We'll see."

40:00

WORKSHOP · STEP 3 OF 3

Count, then commit

3 STEP 3 · 25 MIN

COUNT, THEN COMMIT

Find the drop. Commit the week

→ Draw your funnel per channel, reached to paid
→ Pick the channel that brings activated users
→ Date every follow-up, never drop the thread
→ Copy the bar, each founder names an ask count

Output A funnel per channel, follow-ups, targets

Minutes 25

GOOD

Demo users, 6 reached, 2 talked, 1 activated, 1 paid. Cold LinkedIn, 4 reached, 0 replies. Double down on demo users.

WEAK

"1,200 impressions on our post!"

25:00

WORKSHOP · DURING STEP 1

Arrived empty-handed?

No offer or names? Price a concierge offer, what you'd do by hand for one person. Name ten from your interviews and your segment's groups. Ask.

HOMEWORK UNTIL NEXT TIME

Ask named people from your segment to pay for your offer at its price, and win 3 paying users from outside your social graph, shown in your payment dashboard or on a numbered invoice.

3 paying users

The learning floor is your first € from outside your social graph.

"If none of the first 10 people from our segment we ask to pay says yes by [midweek date], we change the offer or the segment before the next ask. No yes from fewer than 10 asks crosses it too." Logged before the first ask, counted across the team.

Go sell. See you with your first customers!
